

Murder at the Mansion

Murder at the Mansion, March 17, 2012

Welcome to Summer
Mansion for our St. Paddy's
Day presentation of :
Murder at the Mansion or "When Irish Eyes Aren't Smiling."

As you know this is an evening of Inter-active Theatre. We're all here to ostensibly celebrate St. Paddy's Day, but things go quickly awry, when "Death" visits the Mansion. The suspects are part of the guestlist, and the guests are all suspects. Feel free to ask questions of any of these suspicious characters, or simply take your concerns to Father Pat Flanigan, the Irish priest/detective.

Enjoy the show, the food and a drink or two. And by all means...
watch your back!

And, at the end of the evening, feel free to stay a wee bit longer and chat it up with the cast!

Thanks for coming
